Discover The Rock Islands Of PALAU-MICRONESIA

Special Group Departure

Palau is an archipelago of over 500 islands, forming part of the Micronesia region in the western Pacific Ocean. Palau's warm tropical waters are legendary amongst divers for their dramatic sheer walls rising from the depths to within inches of the surface and capped with thriving coral reefs.

World renowned for its' marine bio-diversity and abundance of large pelagic animals, Palau also offers avid wreck divers one of Micronesia's largest collections of WWII shipwrecks. From current swept plateaus to sheltered coral gardens, Palau offers a wonderful range of diving for every level of interest and skill. The majority of diving is drift diving along the walls, plateaus and coral gardens of the outer reef, with the dive boat following along from the surface to meet you upon ascent.

Experience the sites that make Palau one of the top dive destinations in the world: the sharks of Blue Comer, the manta rays of Devilfish City and German Channel, and the coral reefs and stunning drop offs teeming with marine life.

The COVE Resort Palau is a waterfront oasis designed for adventure and relaxation. Boasting a collection of nautically-inspired Palau accommodations just steps from the marina and Sams dive tours, this hotel is ideal for divers, outdoor explorers and groups alike. The resort features the largest lagoon swimming pool in Palau. After a day of diving come back and enjoy the relaxed atmosphere of The COVE.
